ProTrac Memo

August 2015

Business Analytics for both Operations and Accounting

In 2007 the economic world as we knew it, came crashing down. The downturn caused our customer base to lose a % of their sales. The biggest hit was that there were no new customers. New customers had always picked up the slack during a downturn in business now they simply did not exist. Our customers had to rely on their current customers to make their sales numbers!

THE PROBLEM: What was the individual customer buying?

That information was locked away on their computer's DISK DRIVE!

How could they access the data in a timely fashion?

SOLUTION: Interface ProTrac with software that gave sales people access to each customer's sales activity –

WHILE THEY WERE ON PHONE OR ACROSS THE COUNTER!

THAT IS HOW...

Analytical Software (SWOT) became the future of ProTrac and
Our Wholesale Distribution Customers

There are two levels of the Analytical Software that PDSI has introduced to our customers.

1. When your sales person is talking to your customer - ProTrac's SWOT gives them a snapshot of this customer's Buying Habits.
2. The second level of ProTrac's Analytical Software – SALES MATRIX – which gives MANAGEMENT the ability to analyze the buying habits of your entire customer list and the selling habits of your sales people.

Both software packages review a customer's

| | | |
|----------|----------------------|---|
| S | Strengths | What products are they currently buying and how often? |
| W | Weaknesses | What products are they no longer buying ? |
| O | Opportunities | What products are LIKE - customer's buying , |
| T | Threats | Are sales to this customer and the margins from those sales, going south |

No reports to run -
It is live information.

The first Analytical Package is our SWOT CRM for your Sales Reps
